

WSU PUYALLUP HIGHLIGHT

June 30, 2006

A sense of history continues at Spring REC luncheon

Many things have changed since 1964 when the WSU Faculty Women's Club was formed to provide social activities for families. Now, the WSU Puyallup REC (Research and Extension) Club is open to any employee, spouse, retiree or spouse of retiree of WSU Puyallup. The group publishes a yearbook directory, raises funds for a WSU book scholarship, and hosts three annual events: a summer family picnic, a campus coffee in the fall, and a spring luncheon. These activities help build a sense of community at WSU Puyallup

This year's luncheon committee was headed by Andy Jackson and assisted by Andrea Butler, Mickey Bean, Ardith DeRaad, and Wendy Hoashi-Earhardt. The committee provided punch, steaming baked potatoes and a basic lettuce bowl and all the attendees brought salad and tater toppings that lined the table from end to end. Dessert was the best: fresh strawberries from WSU Puyallup's test gardens, homemade angel food cake and lots of whipped cream.
